FIND MISSING MESSENGER SLAIN

New York Police Mystified by Tragedy Following Bond Robbery

By International News Service. New York, Sept. 9.—A triangular murder mystery has been presented to the police with discovery of the body of Benjamin M. Binkowitz, a messenger, who disappeared a month ago, simultaneously with $175,000 worth of bonds and securities from the office of his employer.

Detectives today are trying to determine whether the youth was kidnapped, robbed of the valuable he was carrying and then murdered; whether he stole the bonds himself and was killed by confederates; or whether he executed the robbery alone and was trailed and down away with by other persons unknown to the authorities.

The body was found at Milford, Ct., August 29, but it was not identified until last night as that of Binkowitz. Mrs. Binkowitz, the messenger's mother, identified the body by means of a picture and clothing worn by the lad.

Inspector Pauli, who has been investigating the case for weeks, declared today that he believed the boy was murdered by professional criminals. He believes the lad was enticed into an automobile with the bonds and overpowered.

Marks on the body indicate that Binkowitz put up a terrific struggle. There were nine stab wounds in the chest, any one of which would have caused death. His face was slashed twenty times and the head almost severed from the body. There were also many cuts on his hands, indicating the police say, that in the struggle he gripped the knife.

But one of the bonds has been recovered since the messenger's disappearance. One was found in a Suffolk street second-hand shop, the proprietor of which is now in the Tombs.

"Haunted" Machine Persists in Talking to Itself o' Nights

Wicked—An injunction to restrain a haunted talking machine from talking to itself during the nighttime.

The refractory conversation box is the property of Captain Michael Boyle of Engine Company 18, who lives on River street in Dorchester Lower Mills. Today the weird performance of the magic talking machine were much discussed in that neighborhood.

During the night the doctory are captain heard the machine playing a weird melody "like sweet bells jangling out of tune," and talking erratically to itself, as if it were intoxicated. He arose and shut it off. No record was in evidence. He had no sound, got back to bed, that the strange tune began again.

Boyle arose once more, and after a couple of "Aunt Jem" waffles in one new reducing the machine to silence.

The thing happened a third time, with no human agency in evidence, and the captain gave it up. The machine music continued until almost morning.

Boyle is inclined to think the phenomenon was due to some action of the electrical system on the delicate apparatus of the graphophone.

TEUTONS REFUSE TO WITHDRAW FROM RUSSIA

Noske Says Sending for "Iron Division" Would Cause More Bloodshed

Berlin, Sept. 9.—Gustave Noske, German minister of defense, announced today that it would be impossible to send any German troops into the Russian Baltic provinces to compel the Iron Division of the German army to obey the government's orders to count down.

"Such action would cause more bloodshed and confusion," said Minister Noske.

The German Cabinet has decided not to send any more pay or food to the Iron Division because of the increased government. According to the press conditions Germany was to withdraw its troops from the Russian Baltic States.

A note has been sent to the Lithuanian representatives here depicting the recent outbreak at Mitau, when German troops looted a Lithuanian army post. The note alleged, however, that the Lithuanian government had broken its promises to the Iron Division.

The Lithuanian government is reported to have promised a grant of home-lands to German soldiers remaining on Lithuanian soil and becoming Lithuanian citizens.

ALLISON WOMAN STARTS TANNER ORPHAN FUND

SUGGESTS COLLECTING

Wife or Children? Was Tanner Right?

William F. Tanner of Chicago started with his wife to the movies. Crossing a railroad track Mrs. Tanner caught her foot in the rails. Efforts of herself, her husband and a flagman failed to free it. An express was thundering toward them. Finding that he could not save his wife, Tanner clasped her in his arms and waited. Both were killed. At home were three children. These children are orphaned.

Did Tanner do right?

What is the man's duty in such a case? Does he owe his first thought to his wife or to his children? Should he die with the former, or live for the latter?

It is like the old story of the man who was out in a boat with his wife and child when the boat capsized. He could save only one. What one ought he to save?

The Chicago man was unable to save his wife, but was able by his self-sacrifice to comfort her last moments, to lessen some of the terror of death.

On the other hand, had he leaped to safety he would have been spared to provide for his helpless little family. Which was his duty?

What do American readers think? What would you do, male readers, in a similar case? Women readers, what would you have your husband do if you were in the position of Mrs. Tanner?

watched his wife's death. Would the rest of his life have been happy after that, his or his children's? The terror would ever have been before his eyes, and her death. Tanner proved his love by what he did.

Imagine yourself, reader, in the position of this young wife. Would it not comfort you to know that you were not going to the great unknown alone? At such a time we are lifted out of ourselves by joining the hand of some loved one.

The orphaned children are in a pitiful condition, no doubt, but I believe a fund ought to be raised for these orphans, and it should be the first contribution.

Will it not be pride and glory to these children, all their lives, to know that they were the children of such a man as their father?

MRS. S. L. G.

Tanner Stands Out as the Greatest Hero of All Times, Says Woman

Editor American: I take the opportunity to impress and absolutely convince you men and women readers that William F. Tanner will stand out as the greatest hero of all times.

He proved he was a man in the full sense of the word. He died as the noblest ever died. He sacrificed his life for his wife, who had many times gone to the very gates of Heaven for the sake of making him a home. A home? The gift of God! The very glimpse of heaven on earth.

Had Tanner left his wife in that moment of terror, I believe he would have suffered all his life with a guilty conscience ever troubling him.

man or woman to judge. I think the position he was placed in, to stand, watch and wait for one to be dashed to pieces, was the most trying and terrifying, not alone horrible, ordeal for any living person to go through. I feel that he did not think, but that he was doing all for the best. He made his choice; why question the right or wrong of the act of one hour dead?

SOUSA'S BAND TO GIVE SUNDAY CONCERT HERE

Probably there is no other person in the history of music in America who appeals to the imaginations, the attitudes and the respect of his contemporaries, as does Lieutenant John Philip Sousa. Lieutenant Sousa will bring his famous band of sixty selected musicians to Boston on Sunday, September 14, where he will give an afternoon performance at symphony hall.

"SOME TIME" TO REOPEN THE SHUBERT THEATRE

Arthur Hammerstein will present at the Shubert Theatre next Monday evening his merry musical romance, "Some Time to Date," with Ted Comedian, Frank Thorne, in the principal comedy role.

"Some Time" comes to Boston directed from all-around run at the Casino Theatre, New York, where it enjoyed the proud distinction of having a longer run on Broadway than any other musical play that appeared there last season.

FLYING EXHIBITIONS AT REVERE BEACH

Today and tomorrow will be the last days of the flying exhibitions given by Lieutenant Hogue and his staff of dare-devil aviators at Revere Beach. These exhibitions have been witnessed by thousands of amusement seekers, who have flocked to this popular summer resort, now replete with the "hammer music of the millions."

The remaining performance by these death-defying men of the air, who, by the way, have seen service abroad, will be given at 2 p. m. and 10:30 p. m.

LOWE'S ORPHAN THEATRE—If you want to satisfy yourself with a combination of exceptionally good vaudeville, together with the first Boston showings of two attractive photoplays, go to Lowe's Orphan Theatre the first half of this week.

Edna Egan, who is winning the hearts of the audience, will give a performance of her original comedy act, "Adam and Eve Up to Date," with Ted Comedian, Frank Thorne, in the principal comedy role.

COMEDY BILL IS OFFERED AT KEITH'S

Comedy is predominant in this week's bill at Keith's Theatre, constituting a program that is exceptionally interesting and entertaining.

The leading act is a spectacle called "Aged Beauty". In this, Joseph Howard and his partner, Ethel Clark, portray the beautiful features of the former's latest song bill. Mr. Howard has the reputation of being one of the foremost comedians in the country. Miss Clark is a beautiful woman, with a charming personality, possessing wonderful dramatic instinct. This act went over with a stretch. Another act makes her initial how before Bostonians with a note and dance act that made Broadway men with talk. And there is good reason for that. Boston should do likewise. It is one of the best acts playing in this city for some time.

Harriet Temple offers her own play, "Lorryton". In which she plays a dual role of mother and daughter. Miss Temple is a playright with a name well known along the Great White Way. That alone speaks for the brand of the sketch.

"Auntie's Grand" with Al and Harry Klein, is one of those up-to-date comedy acts which results in an epidemic of laughter.

Other acts on the bill are: Tom Smith and Ralph Austin, musical comedians; George Herman, Marion Shirley, in "The Mysterious Masquerade"; the Transfield Sisters, in a combination of jazz, vocal and instrumental music; Maxine Brothers in a quartet act; and the Quartet Four, composed of Miller, Owen, Powell and Stokes.

The weekly review of topical news events was shown in conjunction with the popular topical of the day, "MALDEN AUDITORIUM"—The Boston stock company at the Malden Auditorium, with additional home yesterday by the excellent manner in which this popular group of players staged Avery Howard's delightfully refreshing farce, "Fair and Square," which is known to many players as a laugh producer of abundant proportions. The farce moves with lightning-like rapidity and from the rise of the first curtain until the drop of the final there isn't a dull moment.

Plays That Remain

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—It seemed like a "first night" audience last evening at Park Square Theatre, where every seat in this playhouse was occupied by an enthusiastic playgoer to witness the resumption of the phenomenal success of "Hedda" the new comedy by George V. Hobart. Each member of the cast was a star in his own right. The performance was given with much vigor and the cast's musical numbers were enjoyed.

"WILLOW THEATRE"—On the 10th, which represented the Willow Theatre last Saturday night, began its eighth successful week last night with the original cast absolutely intact. It is holding its own with the popularity achieved by its five predecessors.

ARLINGTON THEATRE—The last week of "Dinner of the World" began at the Arlington Theatre yesterday, and the large audience there, though appreciated its acting by the "Dinner" with John Oakley and Mary Young at their head. Charles Malton gives a remarkably effective impersonation of the Kaiser in "The Kaiser's Daughter" and the entire performance is notable for its handling of the emotional and the comic. Next week John Galeworthy's play, "The Fugitive" will be given for the first time in Boston.

FLORENCE THEATRE—Florence Moore, the irresistible comedienne, returns as the chief attraction, leader of that lively farce, "Breakfast in Bed," at the Florence Theatre last night. The house was packed and gave the popular star an ovation.

TRIMBLE THEATRE—Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs" is still retaining copies of Tremont Theatre and the run of this charming play is on a fair way to being a record, as it has been in Boston a quarter of a year. This delightful comedy farce, which has been enjoyed for both old and young, seems to be by the way of their elders in extravagance of praise for their beloved Mary.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—"The Right to Happiness" at the Majestic Theatre continues to draw large crowds to both performance daily and this popular drama with its themes of love, industry and unrest, is a real-life portrayal of present-day conditions. Miss Dorothy Phillips, the star of "The Heart of Humanity," reaches the height of her career in this picture, portraying the role of Miss and Sylvia, her sister, a daughter of the revolution and the other the successful child of wealth.

PARK THEATRE—The spectacular success of George Lenoir Tucker's production of "The Miracle Man" now playing at the new Park Theatre is evident, and the run of this play at the Park will no doubt be no short one. The production is a masterpiece of contemporary acting. It is superlative in its caliber and has been a great success in Boston. "The Miracle Man" is, without doubt, one of the finest of its kind that has ever been seen.

HOWDON SQUARE THEATRE—Charles Ray, always a popular favorite at the Howdon Square Theatre, is seen in the Paramount offering with real stars in the Paramount offering with real stars and rural scenes galore.

HOWARD ATHENAEUM—There was a great crowd of people and a happy audience yesterday at the Howard Athenaeum, by the way of the "Hill" repeats with comedy.

LOREN'S COLUMBIA THEATRE—In accordance with the popular policy of daily changes at Loren's Columbia Theatre, the new production of "The Miracle Man" will be shown for today. Henry Vanhook in "The Heart of Humanity" and Jane Jarvis in "The Heart of Humanity" will be shown for today. Henry Vanhook in "The Heart of Humanity" and Jane Jarvis in "The Heart of Humanity" will be shown for today.

MODERN AND BEACON THEATRE—The Modern and Beacon Theatre, featuring exclusively the first runs of Paramount Artcraft specialties, offer their attractions this week. "The Missing Link" and "The Missing Link" will be shown for today. "The Missing Link" and "The Missing Link" will be shown for today.

NORTHEASTERN COLLEGE—Owing to the unusual success of Manager Benson's latest venture, the Sunday evening concert, he has decided to continue this program for a few weeks to come. Next Sunday evening, September 14th, in the theatre there will be a concert, and all other valuable acts, and as a final feature, a special feature of the week's entertainment, a special feature of the week's entertainment, a special feature of the week's entertainment.

THEATRE—The grade of work is equivalent to that done by the leading New England Colleges. Professors and instructors from New England Colleges. Open to high school graduates and others who can meet the requirements.

NAZIMOVA IS SEEN TO GOOD ADVANTAGE

Humor, wit, pathos—all these elements have been cleverly interwoven in the situations of "The Great Dictator" which the incomparable Nazimova alternately touched the hearts and provoked several high audience yawns.

A popular added attraction was the showing of intimate personal pictures of noted screen stars, among them Norma and Constance Talmadge, Wallace Reid and others. The extraordinary all-star vaudeville program, including Stump and the Will, Cecil and Bernice, Cameron, David, and the Ford and Tracy. The Gilling-Chester travel picture.

COMMAN SQUARE THEATRE

Donnerstag, 9. September 1919. In the afternoon, the Comman Square Theatre has for its attraction, the famous production called "The Great Dictator" which the incomparable Nazimova alternately touched the hearts and provoked several high audience yawns.

UPHAMS CORNER STRAND—His constant devotion to the memory of his dead mother is the force which leads Uphaus to break with his father in "The American Boy". It is a story of sufficient merit to stand alone.

Donovan-Parker Clash is Biggest Local Lightweight Bout for Years

Armory A. A. Selections
Johnny Donovan to beat Charlie Parker.
Joe Gibbs to beat Shaver O'Brien.

By JACK CONWAY.
Johnny Donovan, South Boston's premier lightweight, and Charlie Parker of the South End, will clash in a twelve-round bout at Mechanics Building tonight under the direction of the Armory A. A.

It is the most important twelve-lightweight bout that has been arranged in four years. At that time Matty Baldwin, John Murphy and Gilbert Gallant were regular performers at the Arena.

The boys will weigh in at 133 pounds. This poundage should be easy for the rival fighters, who are both legitimate lightweights. Donovan's brilliant showing for six rounds in his first contest with Young Kinky clinched him as one of the best lightweights in the East. Although rated against a man who outweighed him by ten pounds, Kinky who had made a reputation as a welter in his first hand, this blow enabled him to score a knock-out victory when he first started boxing. Of late he has been working on his boxing and has been working on his boxing and has been working on his boxing.

Donovan is a better boxer than Parker. He is also faster than the South End star. He believes he can win the fight. He is also faster than the South End star. He believes he can win the fight. He is also faster than the South End star. He believes he can win the fight.

Parker expects to come through with a win tonight. The French Flash got the decision, but he was obliged to keep fighting at a lively pace every second he was in the ring. On several occasions Parker got past his rival's defense and scored with his right hand and left hand smashing to the head and body.

Brother C. who cares for Parker's business affairs, says the kayo king will stop Donovan. "Charlie has been hitting better lately than at any time during his boxing career," charged C. "Don't be surprised if Donovan is the casualty about the fifth round."

Shaver O'Brien, South Boston welterweight, and Joe Gibbs of this city will furnish the main attraction. They will also be two six-round bouts.

Billy Bell of Lawrence dropped in at the American office to let us know that he had been to match Young Kinky with Eddie Fitzsimmons. Bell said: "Daddy Morgan claims he's sure Fitzsimmons can knock out Kinky. Let him be. I don't see the match in it. I don't see the match in it. I don't see the match in it."

Kinky has resumed training and will be ready to fight by September 15th.

RED SOX-BROWN GAME HEAD UP BY RAIN

Here is the hero of baseball. Babe Ruth of the home, better than. Just slap one a mile, more in a while. And follow that record, old world.

—Songs of the Bleachers.

By NICK FLATLEY.

Something like the triumphal return of an ancient emperor after he had knocked a couple of swarms of barbarians for a goal was the reappearance of Babe Ruth in Boston. He did not come in a chariot, with a lot of prisoners for a spoil, but he came back with about the most enthusiastic reception ever handed an athlete in this exuberant neck of the woods.

Big Babe, the record smash-packer, came yesterday at the Polo Grounds. His one aim in life is to get as many runs as he can. He is a ball down in a fortnight or so, that nobody else himself will ever have any chance of equalling the mark.

The Mattachine was hunking on at least one more today, but the rain butted in and Babe will have to wait until tomorrow when he will have time for as many chances with a double-batter scheduled.

HOW RUTH STANDS.

Ruth's popularity has now got to the stage where his deeds make the first pages of papers all over the land—fame attained only by President and Jack Dempsey and Mary Pickford. Were he a mercenary, he could charge fifty cents for a hand-shaking jambores that would net him a young fortune. And, at that, it would be more interesting than watching a couple of heavy-weight boxers fight.

Not much interest has been stirred up in a city series, although it is a game that would like to see what Ruth could do in the hot streets of the big city. Only one man has been a ball being knocked into the right field bleachers, but it is a catch that Babe would bounce a few up there.

How to Play Baseball

"THIS is the ninety-third of a series of 100 articles by Hugh S. Fullerton, celebrated baseball expert, on 'How to Play Baseball.' These articles will be a feature of the American's sport pages. Don't miss them.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

No spot on the field is more important than the ten feet on either side of second base, and in the "inside game" nothing is more important than entire understanding between the second baseman and the shortstop. Between them one signal is essential unless they have worked together so long that they understand each other thoroughly.

That is a signal deciding which shall cover the base to take thrown balls. The danger of a misunderstanding on this play is extreme and the result usually is a disaster to the defense.

In double plays, where the men are unfamiliar with each other, a simple signal will decide which is to move forward to take the ball thrown and which is to cover the base. (Ordinarily, no signal is needed for this if the players are in a chariot, with a lot of prisoners for a spoil, but he came back with about the most enthusiastic reception ever handed an athlete in this exuberant neck of the woods.)

THIS is the anniversary of the admission of California into the Union as a free State. Since that date its development has been phenomenal, and it now boasts of being the garden spot of America. Its southern reaches are dotted with wonderful vineyards, orchards and magnificent homes.

John Hastings, multimillionaire and captain of industry, has employed Robert Alford, a young lawyer, to do some work for him. Alford gains admittance to the house and reveals his self as a member of "E" the Society for the Distribution of Superfluous Wealth." He threatens Hastings, who attempts common id. The visitor shoots him dead and escapes. Arrested later, Alford is proven a perfect snail. Police Commissioner Blake is forced to believe the mistake is due to a case of mistaken identity. Meanwhile three other multimillionaires rush to the office on hearing of Hastings' death and demand protection. The murderer calls Blake on the phone. The police find the number and bring the operator to headquarters. There he identifies Blake as the man who phoned. The Commissioner is furthest amazed. The three millionaires plan to go to Berwald's yard and see if the man who is killed outside the door, and the desperation Blake goes to Hester's home as a detective, who has always wanted to be police commissioner.

MANWHILE Blake, striving rapidly toward Police Headquarters, remembered that it had been all right to go to the offices against Allaire "that he had breakfasted on a single cup of coffee. He stepped into a Park Avenue taxi cab, took the driver by a hairy bite. Then he resumed his way to Police Headquarters.

A horde of reporters swamped him upon him as he entered the building. He retreated to the rear where ordered from the press men at least they ceased annoying him "And I'll make that threat last time," he said. "I won't do it but I will." He added:

"Excused per order of Society for the Redistribution of Burglary Wealth."

Sweetbread Braises With Fresh

Mushrooms

Take some blanched sweetbreads, lay them in a sautéur with a slice of salt pork, sliced onions, carrot and a bunch of parsley. Moisten to half of their height with beef stock broth; let cook for about one-half hour in a medium heated oven. Have some nice fresh mushrooms well washed. Peel in a sauté dish; put in some fresh butter and let the mushrooms cook for a few minutes. Strain the gravy from the sweetbread and cover the mushrooms with it. Allow to boil for a few minutes and thicken with brown sauce. Sprinkle with sweetbread, some pieces of toasted bread. Pour the mushrooms and the sauce piece by piece, and sprinkle with a little champed onion.

A Single Application

A Single Application
Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty)

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove all undesirable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste of finely powdered talcum and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin with soap and water. This is a painless, inexpensive method and, repeating often, the growth is unusually thin, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to use gentle detaches.—Advertisement.
